THURSDAY APRIL 5.

FIRST DISTRICT CONVENTION.

The republican electors of the first congressional district, are hereby notified that a convention will be held at Clinton Junction, Tuesday, May 1st, at 2 p. m., for the purpose of electing delegates and two alternates to represent this district in the national republican convention to be held at Chicago, June 10th. Also to name one presidential elector and to transact such other business as may properly come before the convention. Rock county will be entitled to 13 delegates, Walworth 8, Lincoln 8, Jefferson 6, and Kosciusko 5.

W. H. BURLAUGH, Chairman.
Geo. A. Yule, Secretary of Committee.

CLAPP'S BRAG.

There is a democrat in Boston by the name of Clapp, who seems exceedingly anxious to get $2,000, that Mr. Cleveland, if he be re-nominated, and the nomination accepted, will be the next president of the United States. Mr. Clapp has been talking about his $2,000 for some time. He seems to be rash in his proposition, and wants the people to believe that he has plenty of money to back his proposition that Cleveland will be re-elected, should he accept the nomination.

While Mr. Clapp displays considerable enthusiasm in his offer to bet this money on a contingency, he is not to impress people with the idea that he does not read the New York World. Several days ago, Mr. M. Force, of Newark, New Jersey, published the following card in that paper:

Newark, N. J., March 20.

The offer in plain English, and is unconditional. If Mr. Clapp has the courage of his conviction, he will write a note to Mr. Force and tell him he has found a taker. But it may be that Clapp is offering to bet for amusement sake, and to keep his courage up. Sometimes people whistle to make other think they are cheerful, and no doubt Clapp offers to show his pocketbook to surprise republicans that he has not lost all faith in Cleveland's election, "if" he is nominated, and "if" he shall accept the nomination.

Probably Mr. Clapp, when he put two contingencies in his wager, had the following paragraph in mind, which is a striking part of Mr. Cleveland's letter of acceptance:

When we consider the patronage of this great office, the influence of power, the temptation to retain place once gained, and more than all, the availability of a party funds in an incumbent whom a horde of office-holders, with a zeal bordering on fanaticism, are ready to follow, it is not surprising that a man of favor to come, stand ready to aid with money and trained political service, we recognize in the eligibility of the president for re-election a most serious danger to that calm, deliberate and intelligent official action which must characterize a government by the people.

If Mr. Cleveland is better than his party and is a man who keeps his promise, then Mr. Clapp's $2,000 will not leave his pocket book.

By the way, this paragraph from Mr. Cleveland's acceptance letter would not be a bad inscription to write over the door of the national democratic convention hall.

The New York Times announces that the Canadian Pacific Railroad company is about to surrender its transportation monopoly in the provinces west of Lake Superior—so far, at least, as Manitoba is concerned—if the dominion parliament can be induced to accept its terms. The price for relinquishment is about $12,000,000, and the bargain is to take the form of a purchase by the government of a large part of the land grant heretofore given to the company. This arrangement has been made in order that the complaining people of Manitoba may be appeased. It is reported that the provincial government intends to buy from the Canadian Pacific the road now in use from Winnipeg to the boundary. If the Canadian Pacific's terms should be accepted by the dominion parliament, the purchase of that branch road would prevent the completion of the new independent road by which the people hoped to escape the exactions of the Canadian Pacific. The company would in all probability be willing to sell at a fair price, for the provincial government would have full power to build the parallel line and operate it. The proposed settlement involves the payment of a large sum from the Canadian treasury, and it may be opposed with considerable force.

The last number of the Northwestern Railroad gives an estimate of the losses sustained by the railroads on account of the recent cut in freight rates. The figures are enormous. The cut has led to about fifty days and the loss is estimated at fifteen millions. Commenting on the figures, the paper says: "There is no railroad man who must not recognize that no adequate end has been gained by the enormous expenditure. There never was a rate war of any magnitude yet in which any adequate end was obtained to compensate for the loss. There was a time when railroad cut-throats were less complex, and when two roads could fight a question out of their own territory without involving others, when rate wars as a method of argument were admissible. Now they are sheer, reckless folly. For the immediate loss in earnings is not the only loss. Greater, perhaps, even than that is the indirect damage done by the disturbance to business, and by the impression which facilitates the work of anti-railroad legislation, and which acts almost as an invitation to the state and federal governments to interfere in the regulation of the tariffs. The most needless and hopeless strike among employees is no more foolish or suicidal than such a rate war as this has been."

of A. E. Morse, of Stevens Point, was assassinated on the streets of that city on Tuesday forenoon by John D. Curran, one of the proprietors of the Curran house. Curran says he did it in self-defense, but this is more nonsense. The trouble between Curran and Hazeltine grew out of the trial of the latter for the murder of Morse, which occurred on the 10th of June, 1886. By the killing of Morse, did Hazeltine shape his own death? He little thought, perhaps, that the revenge so murderously dealt out to his victim, would in less than two years, carry himself to a dishonored grave. He forgot the Son of Man, that "with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you again." This is another sad and disgraceful result of the moral recklessness which goes on almost continually at Stevens Point; and no doubt fifty men, all well to-do, can be found in ten minutes in that town to testify to Curran's good character and to swear that he shot Hazeltine in self-defense. And by such testimony will he escape punishment.

There are now nineteen hundred convicts spending their time in idleness in New York, since the contract system was abolished. "A bill appropriating $300,000 to enable the state account system to be continued was first defeated and then reconsidered and passed. It was supported by the leading men of both parties, but several members asserted that they did not fully approve the state account system, although they regarded it as of the utmost importance that the convicts should be kept at work under this until a better plan should be adopted. A state that abolishes the contract system not only puts the state to a large expense, but it places the convicts in a condition which is demoralizing. Idleness among convicts is a crime itself.

DEATH IN THE FLAMES.

Frightful Error in a Mexican City on Easter.

EIGHTEEN LIVES LOST BY FIRE.

A Panic Among Spectators at a Bull-Fight Caused by the Fall of a Building—Some Terrible Scenes Result.

AN EASTER HONOR.

CINCINNATI, April 5.—A special from the City of Mexico says: The Tas Tepalcates published the following telegram, dated Colima, at 5 p. m., Tuesday: Sunday afternoon, about 4:45 o'clock, the bull ring here was crowded with spectators of the great national sport. The company of bull-fighters from Leon was still playing with the first bull, when a fire suddenly broke out on the sunny side of the plaza. A panic seized upon the vast assembly, and a frightful spectacle was the result. The plaza was constructed of wooden masts, reeds, etc., and it was due to this fact that the majority of the people escaped without injury, being able to force an opening permitting exit at different points; but many women and children jumped from the top, a distance of 200 to 300 feet, and over 100 of them were seriously wounded. Eighteen lives were lost. The sides of the plaza being lined with matting as dry as tinder, and there being a slight wind blowing, the amphitheater was in a blaze in a few seconds. Nine dead bodies, in some cases so charred as to be unrecognizable, have so far been taken from the smoking ruins. Nine persons were so badly burned that they died Monday. The slighted deaths in all up to this time. Sixty-eight persons were very badly burned, and though they still live, at least ten of them will die this week. Fifty persons in escaping, were knocked down and trampled upon by the panic-stricken throng, and are very seriously, but not fatally, injured.

The bulls, maddened by the roaring of the flames, broke loose from their stalls and rushed wildly through the smoking mass of humanity, tossing about and knocking over all who stood in their way. Among the eighteen dead were two women who were first forced to death by the flames, and then trampled to death. "The scenes in the neighborhood of the bull ring were sickening beyond description. Women and children directed themselves of their clothing, and crazed with suffering and their burns, ran aimlessly through the streets, and could scarcely be overtaken by their friends. Several persons lost their reason from the severe mental shock to which they were subjected. The fire was incendiary.

In the Colima jail were a number of prisoners, army deserters, etc., who had obtained permission from the authorities to attend the bull fight. They were accompanied by a strong guard of soldiers to prevent escape, but one of the deserters surreptitiously struck a match and lighted one of the dry masts, and in an instant the side of the ring was ablaze. In the confusion and excitement the prisoners succeeded in making good their escape.

The best society of Colima was in attendance. It was Easter Sunday, the return of the season of gayety after Lent. There was a unusual number of Indian and little children present, and these, as often is seen in such events, were the sufferers. No man lost his life. The helpless little children, however, who would not desert their offspring, were the victims of this most appalling catastrophe.

DROPPED 10,000 FEET.

A Wonderful Jump Made from His Balloon by Prof. Hogan at Jackson, Mich. JACKSON, Mich., April 5.—Prof. Hogan made a long leap from his balloon shortly after noon yesterday. The first attempt at an ascension was a failure, but the second effort was a success and the airship soon reached a height estimated at nearly 10,000 feet. At this elevation the balloon seemed to stand still, and by the aid of glasses Hogan could be seen edging over the side of the car. Suddenly a cry went up: "He's dropped!" and the crowd craned their necks to see the man dash himself to pieces. The parachute failed to work at first, and the daring ascendant was soon shooting to the earth with lightning speed. A moment later, however, the parachute-shaped life-preserver opened its wings and Hogan's rapid descent was checked. From that point he dropped slowly, and reached the earth safely in four minutes at a point about one and one-half miles from the city. The fool-hardy man dropped 500 feet before his parachute opened.

Keeping an Old Robbery. ST. LOUIS, April 5.—The $50,000 damage suit of ex-Messenger David S. Fotheringham against the Adams Express Company was heard Tuesday in the circuit court. Fotheringham was the Adams Express messenger who, October 25, 1886, had charge of the car that was robbed of $50,000 by Fred Vitrook, who was charged with the name of "Jim Cummings." When the robbers were captured and sentenced they testified to the innocence of the messenger, and he at once brought suit for damages.

Oregon Democrats. PORTLAND, Ore., April 5.—Administration of President Cleveland's administration, approval of his tariff-revision policy, advocacy of the forfeiture of unearned railroad land grants and of the election of United States Senators by a direct vote of the people were among the declarations of the Oregon Democratic convention. John Gearie was nominated for Congress and John Barnett for Supreme Judge.

An Evidence of the Good Feeling. PARIS, April 5.—The adoption by the United States Senate and House of Representatives of the joint resolution accepting the invitation of the French republic to take part in the international exposition next summer, has created great satisfaction here, and is alluded to both in political circles and by the press as an additional evidence of the "good feeling" and cordiality which prevails between the two countries.

Governor Will Not a Candidate. NEW YORK, April 5.—Several papers print Albany spreading which state that Governor Hill has informed his friends that he is not a candidate for President, and that no influence with him will soon appear in a prominent position in the state declaring he has never been a candidate for President.

The Canadian Free List. OTTAWA, Ont., April 5.—In a few days a proclamation will be signed, signed by the Governor-General, placing on the free list certain natural products specified in clause 2 of the Canadian Tariff act, equivalents of which have been placed on the American free list by Congress.

Michigan Republicans. DETROIT, Mich., April 5.—The Republican State Central Committee met here yesterday and decided upon Grand Rapids as the place and May 8 as the time for holding the convention to select delegates to the National convention at Chicago.

A TERRIBLE DISASTER.

A St Paul Passenger Train Breaks Down a Bridge at New Hampton, Iowa.

The Smoking Car With Twenty Passengers Entirely Submerged in Water.

A Large Number of Passengers Killed, Drowned and Wounded by the Wreck.

Meagre Details of the Disaster.

Special to the Gazette.

CHICAGO, April 5.—A terrible disaster occurred this morning on the Chicago Milwaukee and St. Paul railway near New Hampton, Iowa, caused by the giving way of a bridge spanning the Wepeio river. The smoking car, two passenger coaches, the baggage and mail cars and the locomotive, plunged into the river. There were over twenty passengers in the smoking car at the time of the accident, and this car was entirely submerged in the river, drowning all the passengers. Particularly of the accident are very meagre, but many passengers were killed, drowned and wounded.

IOWA LEGISLATURE.

The Senate Passes the Amended House Bill Relating to the Payment of Miners—The Maximum Passenger Fare Bill Passes the House.

DES MOINES, Ia., April 5.—The Senate passed the House bill relating to the payment of miners, amending by striking out the section requiring semi-monthly payments, but retaining the section prohibiting payment of store goods and orders. It also passed the bill for greater safety of mines. It forbids the location of the escapement shaft within 300 feet of the main shaft without the consent of the mine inspector. The Clark bill, prohibiting trusts, pools and combinations, passed unanimously. The House amendments to the Tariff Printing bill were adopted by the Senate. Mr. Reinger's bill, relating to execution of sentence in capital cases by electricity, passed. The House Temperance bill was then taken up. An extended discussion arose over an amendment by Senator Gatch, providing that the act shall not be construed to prohibit the manufacture of alcohol for the lawful purposes specified, or for export. Senator Wolf moved to amend the amendment so as to permit the manufacture of whiskey, beer, wine, etc., to be sold for medicinal purposes. This was defeated by a vote of 25 to 17. The Gatch amendment was then lost by a vote of 35 to 23. Nearly all the Democrats voted against it, because, as they explained, it discriminated in favor of alcohol and against other liquors.

The House refused again to concur in relation to the bill for State purposes. The committee bill forming Representative districts in accordance with the present law was discussed at length, and lost on engrossment. The objection urged against it is that it is a violation of the constitutional provision that no money be drawn from the treasury without appropriation. A motion to reconsider was filed, and a party caucus will doubtless be held. The House then took up the bill fixing the maximum rate of passenger fare on railroads at 2 cents for class "A," 1.50 cents for class "B," and 1 cent for class "C." Mr. Wilbur offered an amendment making the rate 2 1/2, 3 and 3 1/2 cents. This was voted down 60 to 30. The bill was then passed by 65 to 18.
